President's message

I am delighted to write this foreword for the IAAF Statistics Handbook that concerns the IAAF World Youth Championships Cali 2015, which take place from the 15 to 19 July 2015 in Cali, Colombia.

It seems remarkable that two years have passed since I communicated a similar message to Donetsk, Ukraine, which hosted the eighth edition of these championships. For this year's hosts Colombia, the championships are an historic moment as they mark the first occasion that their member federation, which joined the IAAF in 1948, has ever hosted an IAAF World Athletics Series event.

The IAAF World Youth Championships give Cali, the sports capital of Colombia, its first opportunity to impress on the international athletics stage since it hosted the 1971 edition of the Pan-American Games. They are also a major opportunity for Athletics to inspire the youth throughout South America given that, excluding road events, the last IAAF track and field championships held here were the 2000 edition of the World Junior Championships in Santiago, Chile.

In Cali we will have the privilege to survey the future stars and trends of our sport, as we watch the current generation of the world's best under 18-year-old athletes compete on a global track and field platform for the first time in their young careers. Possibly the next Kirani James or another Usain Bolt, Allyson Felix, Elena Isinbaeva, Valerie Adams... awaits in the wings. Most importantly we hope that the IAAF World Youth Championships will help to encourage kids to recognise that 'fit is fun' and to adopt healthy lifestyle choices.

I thoroughly recommend this Statistics Handbook which has been compiled diligently by the statisticians of the IAAF Statistics and Documentation Service, Ottavio Castellini and Félix Capilla, it is an invaluable resource for media and fans alike who wish to gain maximum enjoyment and understanding of the inspiring competitions we will witness in Cali.

Introduction

We publish a new “IAAF Statistics Handbook” on the occasion of 9th IAAF World Youth Championships, to be held in Cali (Colombia). It is the fifth edition of the series that began at 1st Youth Olympic Games in Singapore 2010, followed with statistics handbooks issued for 2011 and 2013 World Youth Championships, respectively held in Lille and Donetsk, and the 2nd Youth Olympic Games in Nanjing 2014.

This new edition keeps the same structure as previous, with four main paragraphs:

- Medallists of eight previous World Youth Championships (1999-2013) and Youth Olympic Games (2010 & 2014)
- IAAF Youth Best Performances
- IAAF 2014 World Outdoor Youth Lists
- IAAF World Youth All-time Lists

There are new paragraphs also: medal tables for the single editions, total medal table and placing table.

This book, as its previous editions, is compiled by the IAAF Statistics & Documentation Senior Manager, Ottavio Castellini, and by Félix Capilla, an external IAAF Consultant for Statistics.

General notes

We want to provide this book's readers with some further explanations that you will find hereunder. First of all, we would like to draw your attention on the fact that the compilation is made according the traditional rules of any athletics compilation of results.

The lists have two levels:

- Performers: athletes will appear once with their best performance if it is within this limit.
- Performances: athletes will appear every time they record a performance within this limit.

World Best Performances

The Lists are preceded by the World Youth Best Performances (there are no World Records for this category) recognised by the IAAF (updated as at 15 June 2015).

TOP Youth Lists

The compilation of the Youth Lists is based on the following criterions:

- Youth athletes: the athletes belonging to this category in 2015 are those born in 1998-99 (according to the IAAF Rules) but in the Lists some athletes are even younger, for a matter of statistical accuracy of the information, although they are not eligible to compete in the Games.

- Hurdles and throwing events: we only and exclusively publish the events with Youth hurdles and implements, in accordance with the current IAAF Rules, i.e.:←

Men		Women
110mH	0.914m	100mH	0.762m
400mH	0.840m
SP	5 kg	SP	3 kg
DT	1.5 kg
HT	5 kg	HT	3 kg
JT	700 g	JT	500 g

- 800m: since November 2009 hand-timed performances are, for statistical purposes, considered separately. Therefore, in the All-time lists, some hand-timed performances are included but all those achieved since 2010 are listed separately, in accordance with the IAAF Rule.
- Indoor performances are not included.
- Not legal performances are not included in the All-time Lists.
- The Youth World Lists 2015 are daily updated and available through the IAAF Website: <http://www.iaaf.org/records/toplists/sprints/100-metres/outdoor/men/youth/2015>

The compilation of the Youth Lists involves major difficulties because of:

- The great diversity of the events together with the use of hurdles and implements of different heights and weights.
- The lack of information coming from the National Federations regarding this specific category.

Moreover, all the Lists have been compiled by taking into account all the results we have been aware of until 14 June 2015.

Amendments will be gratefully received by
Ottavio Castellini
